

Rosa Gallica, A French Journal about Roses

N. 1, Spring 2005

- Preface, by Peter Harkness
- The Editor's Page

- Bourbon Rose: its introduction into France
- Alexandre Hardy and the Luxembourg Palace Rose Gardens (1817-1859)
- French Missionaries' Roses
- The Onset of Rose Breeding in Lyons

- First correspondents of Rose Gallica abroad
- Summary of the next issue in English (Fall 2005)
- Summaries of the latest issues in French
- An International Appointment in Italy (May 2005)

N. 2, Autumn 2005

- The Editor's Page
- Champier's Rosa Gallica
- Jean-François Boursault (1750-1842), A Revolutionary Rosarian
- Forgotten Rose Breeders : The Audibert Family in Tonelle
- The First French Roses in Russia
- Rose and Fruit trees
- André Du Pont (1756-1817), Postal Worker and Great Amateur Rosarian
- Rose Growing in Ancient Times
- Scientific Research : Molecular Typing and History of the Provins Roses Horticultural Group
- First correspondents of Rosa Gallica abroad
- Summary of the last issue in English
- Summaries of the latest issues in French

N. 3, Spring 2006

- The Editor's Page
- Roses 'de Nanteuil' : one century of errors
- The Rose in the Middle Ages
- Rose-growing in the Brie Region in the 19th Century
- Rugosas : Their Origins and Development in France

- Next Heritage Rose Conferences
- Correspondents of Rosa Gallica abroad

N. 4, Autumn 2006

- The Editor's Page
- 11th International Heritage Roses Conference
- The Rosati, passionate about roses
- Rosa gallica 'versicolor'
- Project of a Core Collection of Roses for their Preservation
- Rosa x francofurtana in History and Today, by Marita Protte

N. 5, Spring 2007

- SPECIAL CHAALIS
- The 11th International Heritage Rose Conference (11th - 18th June 2007)
 - Pre-Conference Tours
 - Lectures
 - Tours during the Conference
 - Private Post-Conference Tour